Introduction

The Connecticut Technology Transfer Center (T2 Center) at UCONN, with support from agencies and organizations around the state, is holding the seventh annual Connecticut Roadway Safety Poster Contest for Children. We want to make roadway safety a priority and are asking the children of Connecticut to help promote roadway safety through art.

Our theme, "Every Life Counts in Connecticut", focuses on the fact that all of Connecticut's road users deserve safe and efficient roadways and that those people who work to maintain our roadways deserve a safe workplace. It also means that we are all responsible for doing our part to make those roadways safe.

Students in grades K-6 are invited to submit their original impressions of roadway safety. Students should depict those concepts and actions they think are vital to improving roadway safety; what drivers, passengers, pedestrians and bicyclists can do to protect their lives and the lives of those working on the road. Some examples of these concepts are: drive the speed limit, slowdown in work zones, don't be a distracted driver, and follow all road signs.

The contest categories are K-1st grade, 2nd – 4th grade and 5th – 6th grade. Posters should be submitted to the UCONN T2 Center by March 10, 2017. Once the entries are received, they will be voted on by a panel of roadway safety professionals.

The top posters in each category will receive their awards and prizes at an award ceremony held in conjunction with Work Zone Safety Week during April 2017. All winners will be featured on the home page of the UCONN T2 Center's website. Winners will be notified in writing by March 20, 2017.

How to be Safe on the Roadway Video

It is important for us all to know how to stay safe when we're on the roadway. This video is designed for children and discusses three different types of roadway safety- pedestrian safety, bicycle safety and ways to be safe as a passenger in a car. We encourage teachers to play this video for students when explaining the Roadway Safety Poster Contest.

Ruff Ruffman - Game Over

The "Game Over" digital initiative provides resources to encourage kids to become better passengers and to play an active role in helping parents to keep their eyes on the road. The campaign's unusual approach tunes into the idea that kids are acutely aware of their parents' distraction, especially when they are driving

Release Form (one per submission)

This document confirms the agreement between you and the University of Connecticut regarding your participation in the 2017 Roadway Safety Poster Contest for Children.

You hereby irrevocably grant to the University and its partners in the contest (CT Department of Transportation, CT Police Chiefs Association and Federal Highway Administration – CT Division Office) perpetually, exclusively, and for all media (print, electronic, video or any other formats), the right to use the artwork submitted for this contest by you or through your child's school, and any reproductions of that artwork, and to identify your child as the artist, in any promotional materials at the exclusive discretion of the University and its contest partners. All artwork is the property of the University and will not be returned to the artist.

You hereby agree that you will not bring or consent to others bringing any claim or action against the University or its contest partners on the grounds that the identification of your child by name as the artist, or the use of anything contained in the artwork or in the promotion thereof, violates any rights whatsoever, including without limitation rights of privacy and publicity. You hereby release the University, its employees and those of its contest partners from any and all claims, demands, actions, causes of action, suits, costs, expenses, liabilities, and damages whatsoever that you may hereafter have against the University and/or its contest partners in connection with the artwork or the identification of your child as the artist.

This agreement shall not obligate the University or its contest partners to use the name of the artwork, or to use any of the rights granted hereunder, or to prepare, produce, exhibit, distribute or in any way exploit the artwork.

The University shall retain the right to assign its rights hereunder without your consent, in whole or in part, to any person, firm, organization or corporation.
